As Democrats continue to embrace their most radical and fringe elements, they continue to hemorrhage support from a variety of demographics.

One member of Gen Z, Savannah Fuhr, shared why she says her generation will never vote for the left again.

“Some people may actually hate to hear this, but the young generation will never vote liberal again.”

“We’re the generation that grew up with parents living in a well-working society, being able to afford groceries on just one paycheck, dad being able to go to work, mom typically able to stay at home, going on vacation, the normal classic American dream.”

I know so many Gen Zers, including myself, that are working multiple jobs by themselves just to afford rent, not even to buy a house, afford rent in a condo apartment.”

“The liberal ideologies do not favor the working class of the American that wants to be an entrepreneur, that wants to own a business, that wants to be able to have a family on one paycheck because the liberal class favors progressive ideologies, which in no way favor the independent working man to climb the ladder.”

“It’s simple. You can literally look at the last four years that Biden was in office from 2020 to 2024, I would say that that really had a dramatic effect on America and this generation. The number of riots, the number of illegal migrants coming into the country, rising of houses going up.”

“You know that the majority of Hollywood and celebrities are left-leaning, and yet they’re all so irrelevant to us working class.”

“The majority of Americans can’t even afford eggs right now. Everybody is all of a sudden leaning towards being a trad wife, and all of a sudden, women are realizing that it actually kind of sucks being controlled by all these feminist ideologies, and people are trying to bring back families.”

“You can see how desperate our generation is for truth, and just to go back to what it used to be for our other parents’ generations and the way they grew up.”

“So, no, I don’t think that the new generation that is well-informed will ever vote liberal ever again.”
